

Logistic Regression Homework (optional, no submission required)

Problem:

- Load the Diabetes data set.
- Perform EDA on this dataset and determine if all the input features are needed for the modeling step.
- Apply logistic regression to this data and determine the performance.
- Compare the performance results with the model that uses all the input features vs. the model you determined in the previous step (reduced input features).